DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8, 10, and 12-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Cook et al (4,890,623). Applicant's attention is directed to column 2, line 64 – column 3, line 3; column 4, lines 4–38 and lines 50-60; column 5, line 56 – column 6, line 16; and column 6, line 66 – column 7, line 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cook et al (4,890,623) in view of Imran (5,279,299). Cook et al disclose the basic device except for the use of a multiplexer on the probe and the grouping of electrodes. Cook does disclose variable electrode orientation at column 6, lines 59-65. Such features, however, are well known in the art as disclosed by Imran (element 86 and Figure 19). Accordingly, the use of such features would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to more efficiently process the detected signals.

Art Unit: 3739

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited art discloses similarly structured devices .
